Human to Human – With Jim Strader-Sasser (19 minutes)

A Common Yearning

Most everywhere I go, most everywhere I get to convene groups, and most everywhere I get to teach these days, there are common yearnings that I hear in people.

for connection

for courage

for doing work better

for honesty

for transparency

for kindness, in and among us

I know these yearnings in me. I don't think it is asking too much to expect these in our groups, teams, organizations. It's not asking too much to grow this among us.

I welcome our further connection. To get to supporting these yearnings.
