Poetry & Practice

Much of my work is leadership development and team-building. Much of my work has evolved to deep-dive cohorts in rite of passage — with people seeking deeper meaning and more-purposed practice. Quanita Roberson is my primary work partner and co-creator in this — see our new shared website.

Lot's happening. I published a second book of poetry, Most Mornings (thank you for ordering and / or gifting to another). It's prosed sense-making for both my work and for my communal and solo living. I've come to love poetry for essence.

And, many events. The left column has a few invitations. Essence of Circle Practice hones deepest simplicity of circle. Circle Immersion imprints circle to underlying belonging and contributing. Wisdom Series brings awareness to medicine found in life's initiations.

With welcome. In the poetry and practice of it all.
